DESCRIPTION: If you are interested in Miami nightlife, then welcome to visit us on a tour of the magnificent city after sunset. When it is getting dark this fantastic city you can see from the different perspective and you will get a lot of positive impressions.

The tour begins in the world-famous Art Deco district in the southern part of Miami, and then continues along the historic bridge "Venetian causeway", which connects several of the 32 artificially created islands, nestled in the bay. The bridge offers a magnificent view of the port of Miami and the central area of Downtown, and the bright lights of the night city are reflected in the calm waters of the bay.

Arriving to the mainland, we will go to the center of Miami, where we will pass by the famous Center for Performing Arts, the American Airlines Sports Arena, the Bayfront Public Park and the 47-story Miami Tower, famous for its amazing night illumination, which is a system of LED lighting, worth a half million dollars, capable of producing up to 16 million colors.

Then our tour will continue on Brickell Avenue - the area of glass-flickering glass skyscrapers and ultramodern skyscrapers. Only after visiting this place, you begin to really understand that the "boom" of condominiums has changed Miami forever.

Further we will go to the area of Key Biscayne through the bridge Rickenbacker Causeway, from where you can see such picturesque views that you will not find in almost any point of the world.

After you have taken the breath away from the beauties you see, we will take you to the historic South Miami Avenue - one of the most beautiful and uniquely located residential streets in Miami. Further South Miami Avenue will take us to the village of Mary Brickell - one of the most fashionable places in the city, where it is quite lively and the streams of people constantly move between the many shops, cafes and restaurants.

And, finally, the tour ends again in the South Beach area, where we will return via the MacArthur Causeway bridge.

As part of the tour, you will cross incredible water spaces; you can admire the chic celebrity homes on the islands of Star Island and Palm Island, and also see huge cruise liners in the port of Miami.

If you really want to spend your Miami evening staying active and get a lot of
