DESCRIPTION:

You will walk along one of the beautiful streets in Moscow - Nikolskaya street. It starts on the Red Square and ends on the Lubyanskaya Square. During the walking tour you will be told about the history of country named Russia.
 The walking tour begins with a visit to the shopping arcade on the Red Square (GUM) building, looking at stores and admiring the architecture. You will have the opportunity to see the most delicious and the famous ice cream in the world cup.
 A walk along the Nikolskaya street will acquaint you with the history of the buildings.
 Then you will reach Lubyanskaya Square, learn the history of the square. Lubyanskaya Square is famous for the monumental Lubyanka Building. Originally built for the insurance company Rosvojiz, it later became better known for housing the headquarters of the KGB. The buildings of the Polytechnic Museum and the famous "Children's World" (historical children's street) are located on other sides of the square. You will have the opportunity to visit the "world of childhood".

Just at the entrance of the street, no plugs into children. At the end of the excursion you will climb the observation deck, from which you can see a fascinating view of Moscow.
