DESCRIPTION:

The Moscow metro is most beautiful in the world. See the most beautiful stations, learn about the history of construction, the legends and secrets that surround it. Visiting the Moscow subway, you discover it is a real art museum which people travel every day! We invite you to an exciting tour of the Moscow metro. Explore the unusually beautiful and ornate Moscow metro stations on a 3-hour tour of the "palaces built for the people." You will admire the marble columns, stained-glass windows and sculptures that have made the Moscow metro so unique and inimitable. The Metro is iconic also because it showcased Socialist Realism in public art. Each of stations has own backstory about its building process and the historical event or famous person the stations were named after.

You will visit the station "Mayskovskaya", which was a refuge for the Council of Ministers during the Second World War. Admire the design of the station "Belorusskaya", each of the marble mosaics which tells its story. Look at the stained-glass windows of the station "Novoslobodskaya" and the mosaic of Pavel Korin "Peace to the World". Learn more about the symbolism of the times of the USSR. Stop at the Kievskaya station, dedicated to Ukraine, and view the various mosaics describing important moments in the history. Consider the collection of bronze statues at the station "Revolution Square". You will learn about local superstitions. Visit the station "Komsomolskaya" - one of the most grandiose stations of the Moscow metro.
