3rd Day

Depart with a guide in the subway. This tour uses public transportation.

See Shinjuku From Above. Because you can't visit Tokyo without seeing this incredible city from above. Tokyo stretches for so many miles, that you can't actually see its borderlines from any observatory tower. Tokyo is not a concrete jungle, but an urban landscape. It's really spectacular and beautiful. you might as well go to the Tokyo Metropolitan Building which has entry observational deck. climb at the top and admire the city in all its splendor!

Photo Stop the Samurai Museum is located, with exhibits featuring swords & armor, and a sword battle experience. Its location near the awesome Robot Restaurant (something we recommend to everyone visiting Japan) makes the Shinjuku Samurai Museum convenient for a pre-show option.

Photo Stop near the restaurant Robot Show. This high energy show filled with catchy beats, powerful dancers and futuristic robots. From huge robot ladies to unusual animatronic animals.

From Donqui, walk through the intersection to Toho Cinema. We go to visit the metropolitan of Godzilla. The towering head of the 52-meter Godzilla above the Toho Cinema, which every hour with steam pleases tourists and locals surrounded by advertising. Lunch (buffet) in the Japanese restaurant Kushiya Monogatari, where you will have the opportunity to cook your favorite dish on your own. A wide selection of seafood and poultry, buckwheat noodles, as well as salads, fruits and dessert.

Shinjuku-Golden-Gai (a local flavor city) was founded in the post-war era on a patch of 100 square meters, where several hundred bars are crowded, many of which can accommodate only 2-8 visitors. This is an unusual entertainment quarter with narrow streets where a motorbike rides at best. The area also has a 1950s feel but boasts a more expensive range of drinks and food belying its grungy façade.

Hanazono-jinja Temple and Torii Gate 1603, one of the most historical shrines in Japan. Hanazono Chapel was founded in the middle of the XVII century and is still functioning. Serious upheavals for the temple and its ministers fell during the Second World War, but after that the services continued in it. It is especially popular with traders and businessmen who come here to pray for the success of their enterprise.

Meiji Shrine is a shrine dedicated to the deified spirits of Emperor Meiji and his consort, Empress Shoken. Entry into the shrine grounds is marked by a massive torii gate.

In any season, traditional Shinto weddings can often be seen taking place there.

Takeshita Street Check out the famed Takeshita Street, where the vibrant youth culture of Harajuku thrives. Lined with shops bursting with colors and frequented by customers, photo opportunities await in every corner.

Alleys of Harajuku, Omotesando Explore the back alleys of Harajuku and find more photo opportunities while probing lesser-known areas.

Whereas Harajuku is swimming in loud colors and striking images, Omotesando has a more luxurious and refined image. Snap away and enjoy exploring.

Shibuya Crossing Shibuya Pedestrian Scramble is the star also in the whole of Tokyo.

You really enjoy the huge space between the buildings and capture some unique pictures which would be otherwise impossible with the crowds around you.

Shibuya Crossing is a popular meeting point, expect to see an incredible amount of people.

2500 people are crossing every time the lights turn green. That's about a tree million people every day.
